Pharm. program is designed with the objective of being a leading university for pharmacy education, research, and practice, where graduates will be prepared to serve as leaders in the pharmaceutical sectors, hospitals, academia, and related fields both nationally and internationally. The 160 credits in this program are divided among introductory courses to familiarize students with the subject matter, advanced courses to sharpen their theoretical understanding, carefully planned lab courses to supplement the core courses, and finally a well-designed internship to expose them to the pharmaceutical industry as well as hospital sectors.
