Due to the rapidly changing nature of the subject, it has become urgent to make a number of changes in the existing syllabus in order to meet the local and global market demand. Especially a number of courses related to Communication Engineering and Intelligent Computing have been added to the existing syllabus. In addition, courses have been distributed into six major areas and UIU is the very first Private University in Bangladesh to do such major-based M.Sc programs. After incorporating all the necessary changes, the modified syllabus is hereby submitted to the University Grants Commission for kind approval.
